10 ways to get him to propose to you

Tired of being the perpetual girlfriend? Looking for him to cement the relationship with a ring? Divya Mangwani gives you 10 surefire ways to make him seal the deal

This is a 10-step process that guarantees you that long-awaited proposal from your guy. However, conditions apply for thick-headed, dull-witted or just plain stubborn men!

- 10 Stop at jewellery stores showcasing wedding rings. Sigh loudly to distract him from the exorbitant prices.
- 9 Make him watch every wedding movie ever made. Then take advantage of his brain being filled with wedding mush.
- 8 Gush excitedly about exotic honeymoon locations...and leave the rest to his imagination.
- 7 Paint a picture of his future—old, bald and

- alone. The last part will freak him out just enough to take action.
- 6 Ask your married friends to preach the virtues of wedded bliss.
- 5 Launch a sneak attack by getting his parents involved. This is only for very desperate cases.
- 4 Explore your other options. Suddenly he'll be convinced he wants to make you his with those four little words.
- 3 Introduce him as your husband... ummm... I mean your boyfriend. He'll get the hint.
- 2 Make him read this article. What could be more obvious than that?
- 1 And last but not the least, do it yourself. ■
